"Register Before October 31"

Mrs. Mae C. Pope, Registrar

MRS. MAE C. POPE, deputy registrar and office manager at Glades sub-courthouse, said Tuesday intense interest in the coming national election is evidenced by the heavy registration continuing daily through her office.

Locally, registrations are weekly tallying over the hundred mark, she estimated. Monday's records this week showed 14 negro registrations made and 13 whites.

Mrs. Pope urges that citizens up-date their registrations early if they have not already done so. "So many are amazed when they get to the polls and find they cannot vote because their registration is not current . . . don't let this happen to you," she said.

If you will only take time to phone the Glades office, the staff will be glad to verify your current registration status . . just phone 996-5511. If you have acquired real estate or moved from one precinct to another, be sure to phone for registration verification. Registration cards can now be issued here, Mrs. Pope said. No longer is it necessary to go to West Palm Beach.

The local office expects to be able to handle absentee ballots for the national election for men in the armed forces, students away at school, or any others who will not be here for election day.

Registration books are open until October 3, 1964 from 8:30 to 5 Mondays through Fridays at Glades Courthouse, and someone is always on hand to assist you.

Homes For Teachers Needed Here Soon

Housing continues to be short for incoming teachers, principal Pellon Morris said Tuesday.

"We're trying to line up suitable homes for new and returning members of our staff and will be most appreciative if you will call our office if you have, or will soon have available, rental homes or apartments," Mr. Morris announced.

Indications are that residential building will be given another shot-in-the-arm here soon, according to city building inspector John Manis. He reports building contractors are busy submitting plans for approval on new dwellings as well as commercial buildings, and construction, which slowed a bit during the past few weeks, should get underway at a faster pace soon.

New Schools Are 'Gove, 'Gladeview'

Belle Glade's two new elementary schools were officially named at the July 8th meeting of Palm Beach County Board of Public Instruction, vice-chairman Milton Carpenter announced this week.

The school in the southeast section has been named Gove Elementary, in memory of the late beloved elementary teacher, Genevieve Gove.

The Southwest school is to be known as Gladeview Elementary.

At the meeting the board discussed sewerage arrangements for the two schools and the probability of having a portable treatment plant at Gove Elementary until such time as the school can be hooked up to the city's sewage system. The school has been given a number one priority on hook up.

Sewage facilities for the Gladeview School are anticipated to be available by the time school opens as the building is only about 1,000 feet from existing lines.

City Commission In Busy Session

At it's regular meeting Monday night, the Belle Glade City Commission found a full agenda.

It authorized public hearings on four pieces of property on which owners applied for admission and or zoning as follows:

The northeast corner of State Road 715 and Airport Road (264 x 330) from B-2 to 1-2;

A tract on the west side of 715 (100 x 144) to be zoned B-2, business liberal — now used as a fruit stand:

The southwest corner of Avenue E and State Road 715 to be zoned B-2 Business, liberal.

Other questions considered by the Commission are reported elsewhere in THE HERALD.

Rabin Joins Grady In Resignation From Golf Body

Asserting their protest against the rehabilitation of the present golf clubhouse, rather than building an entirely new clubhouse, at an estimated cost of 60 to $75,000, Dr. John Grady and Harold Rabin resigned from the City's Golf Committee Monday night. Grady resigned in person and Harold by telegram.

The golf club facts are: under plans proposed by the Chamber of Commerce Committee, and accepted with recommendation by Central & Southern Florida Flood Control District, and now

A. E. (Slick) Kirchman Died Wed.

Arnold Ernest Kirchman

Arnold Ernest Kirchman age 56, of 418 NW Fifth Street, Belle Glade died Wednesday morning at 9:03 in Good Samaritan Hospital, West Palm Beach. Death came after an eleven month stay in the hospital and several years of complicated illnesses.

A stalwart, always in the forefront of Glades development, Mr. Kirchman (Slick to his intimates) served two terms as Mayor of Belle Glade, and has an enviable record in the business and civic life over a 44 year period.

One of the charter members of Everglades Federal Savings and Loan Association, he has served as a Director, Chairman of the Board, President and Vice President, the last of which position he held several years prior to his death.

His continuous service to the Association has seen its resources grow from the original $2,400 to its present 22 Million-plus.

Since '34, Slick Kirchman has been "Mr. Sinclair" of the Glades, and at one time was a partner with Mr. Sinclair.

Mr. Kirchman's original occupation as a farmer usually with others continued intermittently until recent years.

When the Masonic Lodge was organized in Belle Glade, Arnold Kirchman continued with the Pahokee Lodge in order to fill the Chair as Worshipful Master before transferring to Belle Glade Lodge, of which he was a charter member. Other activities in Masonry include membership in Lake Worth Scottish Rite, and Mahi Shrine.

As a charter member of Belle Glade BPOE 1716, "Slick" served thru the Chair to include Exalted Ruler; he served as District Deputy Exalted Ruler and Vice President of Florida Elks Association. He was active in Elks until he became bedridden.

Mr. Kirchman was one of five living charter members of Belle Glade's Rotary Club, which he served as President.

Mr. Kirchman was affiliated with the First Baptist Church of Belle Glade.

"Slick" Kirchman was always available for financial and personal support to whatever cause led to the betterment of his Community — The Glades.

The Kirchman family of parents — Mr. and Mrs. F. W. — and six sons came to Chosen from Moore Haven where it had spent one year, following migration from Sumner, Iowa.

Aim For Step By Step Integration To Assure Continued Race Harmony

Working to assure a continuance of good race relations in Belle Glade, since the signing into law of a civil rights bill by President Johnson on July 3, a bi-racial committee, appointed by the city commission, has held two meetings within the past week.

At the organizational meeting last Friday afternoon at city hall, conducted by Mayor LeBron Williams, Russell Tucker was appointed chairman of the committee by nomination of W. C. Taylor, seconded by Charles M. McCurdy. Others on the committee are Richard A. Poston, Bennie Weeks, Bill Burke and Fritz Stein; J. T. Houston, Jr., Richard Jones and Rev. O. D. Williams.

In complimenting Belle Glade's citizenry, the commission and law enforcement groups on the harmony and lack of "incidents" here, Mayor Williams said: "We who are serving on your city commission have given a lot of thought to our selection of members and feel we have selected the very best in town. Whatever you do should represent the thinking of the whole community and not of a bunch of hot-heads trying to shove something down someone's throat. Organize some plan . . . what can be done to keep the harmony this community has enjoyed and help resolve any problems before they gain momentum."

"You can't legislate morals nor human emotions," the Mayor continued. "You can help direct community planning and encourage sane thinking. We want the peace and tranquility of this town preserved."

At the committee's first program planning meeting this Monday afternoon, it was decided that an appeal be made to eating establishments heads to meet with the committee next Monday night at 7 o'clock at the city hall in working out a plan of peaceful integration.

This action came following a briefing of the group by City Attorney John E. Baker on the civil rights bill.

"We are planning to contact the civic organizations and ask them to give information to their members," chairman Russell Tucker announced Tuesday. Letters will be mailed out the first of next week to all organizational heads, he said.

"Particularly we are requesting that parents urge their young people to conduct themselves well so as to in no way contribute to community problems," Tucker said. "Any disturbances caused by our young people among either whites or negroes will be a reflection on their parents," he added.

"I feel we have a wonderful group of people in Belle Glade, the chairman continued. "They've bent over backwards on both sides of the issue to try to get together on any possible issues, displaying a willingness to give and take, that we might continue to have peaceful coexistance in our city."

W. C. Taylor told THE HERALD Tuesday he feels the Inter-Racial Committee which has been in operation here for a number of years," has make a number of years," has made a ing things in line and helping attitudes toward each other."

"I feel the bi-racial committee is proceeding very sanely in their approaches," the funeral director committeeman said adding "Of course we must proceed with all diligence."

Chamber Reports Active Six Months And Outlines Goals For Near Future

Building of a Palm Beach County Welcome Station on U. S. 27 is being explored by the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce, president John L. Grady announced this week. Members of the Chamber hope to meet with South Bay businessmen soon to enlist their support in local projects, Grady said.

Bringing further attention to our area will be new signs soon to be placed on highways leading to our city.

Belle Glade's new brochure is about ready for the printers and will be given wide circulation. A new city map has recently been produced and has been helpful in acquainting new comers to our area.

Memberships in 1964 have nearly equaled for the first six months the previous high for the Chamber, the president announced. The last half of the year remains to set a record membership.

"The number of membership from new businesses has been excellent, however, it is unfortunate how many established firms or individuals have never joined or have let their memberships lapse in recent years," Grady said. "The dues are not high and the dividends to the individual or firm are far in excess of the cost, not considering the overall benefits to the community."

"Our community has not begun to realize her commercial, civic and cultural potential," President Grady emphasized, "and while much progress has been made and is being made, the good efforts of our community leaders must be continued with even more courage and imagination."

"What is most essential," he continued ,is "there must be the cooperation and support of all citizens of the community."

Improvements to Belle Glade's Marina and Port currently being made are a result of efforts of the Chamber along with help of State agencies, Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District, Port of Palm Beach Commissioners, City Commissioners, Rep. Emmett Roberts and many other and interested influencial citizens, Grady announced. The development of Kraemer and Torry Islands and the south dike of Lake Okeechobee into a park and recreation area has taken a big step forward through cooperative efforts of the same groups.

"We ask for the assistance of each of you in the orderly and progressive development of your city," the president's report concluded, "Support your Chamber of Commerce."

City Sells—

$2,750,000 Revenue Bonds To Pay 4.048

City Finance Officer Frank Anderson announces the sale of $2,750,000 in revenue bonds which will pay 4.048% considered a very favorable interest rate for the City of Belle Glade.

$566,000 of the money will be used to retire outstanding bonds which are at 4½% interest, and the balance to be used for additions and expansions to existing water system and sewerage installations.

The saving of .952% interest on the half million-plus outstanding bonds is considerable over the term of the maturities.

Outstanding water bonds amounting to $438,000 and bearing 5% interest will be accelerated, under the new agreement.

The latest issue has two maturing series, one 75 thru 84 and the other 75 thru 98.

The bond purchasers pay costs of validation of the bonds and their issuance.

F. S. Smithers & Co. and Potts & Sheppard are the purchasers of these bonds, which have as security, income from the water and sewerage operations, and are the only bonded indebtedness of the City.

(Mr. Sheppard is the City's Fiscal Agent in the issuance of, these bonds.

Current advertising for opening of bids on the sewerage additions on August 11th will be followed closely by advertisements for the water extensions, according to City Manager Huguely.

. . . Or Could It Happen To You?

Considering myself a law abiding citizen, this reporter had no qualms as we approached a road block of traffic from both directions for a routine driver's license check last week end.

Confidently I presented my little pink certificate, only to be told . . . along with a summons to appear . . . that it should be blue!

Have you checked your card lately? Could this happen to you?

To those trying to forget birthdays the new law on driver's licenses can be a plague. Years get by rapidly. Renewals are due during the month of your birth and the pink for girls . . . blue for boys, or visa-versa, doesn't hold.

BG City Streets "Double Finished"

City Manager Huguely reports that double surfacing of City Streets has been begun and will be carried to all streets

The double surfacing is just as the name indicates — a double coat of tar and rock, to increase the wearing ability and appearance of the streets.

Lake Grab Delayed In Actual Effect By Court Ruling

In holding the Act dividing Lake Okeechobee valid, Judge Ben Willis ruled that actual dividing of the revenue will be delayed until 1975, when existing bonds will have been paid off.

The US Supreme Court's ruling about representation by population may offer another OUT for this small county grab, conceived and passed by what is known as the "pork chop gang," of Florida's legislature.

However, our County Commission insists that the decision of the Leon County Judge be appealed to Florida's Supreme Court.

Gas taxes are allocated to counties as secondary road funds by a formula which involves population, area and miles of paved roads.

Moore Haven Dike To Be Raised Soon

Bids will be opened Aug. 18 on raising a 10-mile section of the Herbert Hoover Dike at Lake Okeechobee. Located in Glades County, the area extends from Hurrican Gate No. 1 near Moore Haven to Fisheating Creek along the southwest shore of Lake Okeechobee, engineers said.

Work is currently underway on two other contracts which call for raising the height of the Herbert Hoover Dike which controls the giant lake. Raising the levees will permit a greater storage of water in Lake Okeechobee for use during dry periods, Army Engineers said.

Successful bidder on the work will be required to complete the job within 200 calendar days

AT THE STATE BPW CONVENTION in Tampa, six officers and members from Belle Glade's club attended workshops during the four-day program, and were on hand for the climaxing banquet to see their former club president Rosa Nash installed as State Director for District Eight. Scholarships Going Begging!

"More than $1 million dollars in potential scholarships funds were unused last year, even as thousands of qualified students failed to matriculate at the nation's colleges due to a lack of personal funds" says William Levy in the current issue of Pageant magazine.

"Besides direct awards from colleges and universities which often go unclaimed by the public" says Levy, million of dollars of scholarship and loan funds offered by private groups such as corporations and unions often are not issued because of a lack of publicity given these opportunities."

Another authority, Sidney Eisenberg, says in the same issue, "financial aid is available to anyone who wants to go to college and is resourceful enough to find help. It may mean writing 200 or more letters, but somewhere there is a school that will have funds."

Why not some local organization secure a list of scholarships available and see that all Seniors in Belle Glade High and Lake Shore High be given that information?

U.S. Sugar Quota Hearing On Aug. 7th

The U. S. Department of Agriculture today announced that a public hearing regarding allotment to processors of the 1964 sugar quota for the mainland cane sugar area will be held Aug. 7, beginning at 9 a. m. (local time) in the Monteleone Hotel, New Orleans, La.

U. S. Department of Agriculture officials said that such processor allotments may be necessary to carry out the provisions of Sec. 205 of the Act, which require the Secretary to allot the quota whenever necessary to avoid marketings of sugar in excess of the quota, to prevent opportunity to market sugar provide processors an equitable opportunit yto market sugar within the quota for the area.

A Camping They Go!

Mr. and Mrs. Francis Harris

Off on a trip that might well be the envy of many on these hot, humid Florida summer days (despite our balmy breezes) Mr. and Mrs. Francis Harris, with jubilant plans, a partially marked road map and brand new collapsible trailer house, left last weekend headed for "points west."

Before takeoff, we were told they will pick up Jorgi Crewes, here his niece, Mary Ann O'Neal in Palm Beach and pick up their daughter, Joanne, at Camp Crestridge and spend a few days camping in North Carolina. The tentative trail included visiting his sister Mrs. Art Rust in Ames, Iowa. Mary Ann will remain with her aunt and return home by plane. The Harris' will go on west to spend several days in Yellowstone National Park. From there, they will head south to Salt Lake City and enjoy several days of sightseeing before going southwesterly to visit National Parks in Utah . . . but how to get in all the scenic spots in Colorado? Anyway they planned to make it on to Los Angeles, California and visit Disneyland, the high light of their trip and by devious routes cover all the interesting sights they could include going and coming before returning home in six weeks or so.

With all the comforts of living at home, their camping trailer, selected for light, easy pulling, lets down to little more than 5 feet above the road when it's in "travel" position to follow readily wherever you choose to go.

With weeks of previous planning, all that remained was to pick out choice camping spots, in a few seconds set up "home" and live it up all across this old U. S.!

Happy camping, folks! We want a full report when you return!

Back From Hawaii

Dr. John L. Grady reports an enlightening day spent at the E. W. A. Sugar Plantation in Hawaii recently, where he observed a very efficient operation in the sugar industry. This is one of the oldest plantations in the United States, Grady reported. He was particularly impressed by their very effective method of grass and weed control and the fact that no insecticides are used. None are necessary, he said, as nature has provided insects to control pests.

Combining business with pleasure, Dr. and Mrs. Grady spent 10 days visiting Mrs. Grady's sister and her husband, Lt. Commander and Mrs. Robert Lamb.

Returning, they stopped in scenic San Francisco where Grady attended lectures and scientific exhibits at the American Medical Convention and Creighton University alumni banquet.

Enroute home they visited in Kansas City with Mrs. Grady's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Jones who had kept the children, and the family then went on to Omaha for a few days visit with the doctor's parents and sister.

Human affection is not poured forth vainly, even though it meet no return. Love enriches the nature, enlarging, purifying, and elevating it.

DeGraws Back Home After Extensive Trip

Mr. and Mrs. A. B. DeGraw, who have been vacationing for almost two months returned home Saturday. The highlights of their trip included, first the World's Fair, and while in New York several Broadway Shows and dinner at Jack Dempsey's Restaurant, where he shook hands with them in person. Mr. DeGraw also visited the financial section.

Next on the agenda was Niagara Falls, where they were surprised to meet some Belle Glade folks, Jack and Peggy Royals. After crossing over into Canada they had a marvelous time at Kanora, where they went fishing on Lake of the Woods. Mrs. DeGraw said they caught the 6 day limit of Wall Eyes in an hour, which proved to be very expensive fish, and to be sure they brought them home with them.

Turning south into Minnesota they drove to Carthage, Mo., and visited relatives and on to Arkansas for more visiting before heading for Belle Glade.

Tired And Weary?

Mrs. Earwood Advises Carribean Tour

A trip to Nassau and Jamaica on the S. S. Ariadne (one of the luxury liners of the Eastern Steamship Corporation) touring the Carribean proved to be most enjoyable for the Earwood sisters-in-law, Mrs. Gertha Bolding of Birmingham, Mrs. Emil Dahlhe, Cullman, Ala. and Mrs. Henry Earwood of Belle Glade.

They enjoyed seven days of relaxation, good food and wonderful entertainment both aboard ship and in ports where the Ariadne stopped for sightseeing tours, shopping in native markets and visits to hotels and clubs for a glimpse of native folk dances.

Tours included drives thru the country side, both in Nassau, Ocho Rios and Kingston, Jamaica. "The tropical foliage in Jamaica grows right up the mountain side. (The mountains make one think of the Smokies. "Can you imagine palm trees, and tropical foliage up so high? We were amazed." Mrs. Earwood said. "The terrain of Jamacia is much like that of Western North Carolina, except it is not so cool."

"Kingston, our main stop was a large sprawling city with a variety of European and Oriental shops. This is the home of the famous Victoria Crafts Market. We could hardly leave such a fascinating place. Shops closed there at 4:30 however, so we had to end our shopping tour and board ship to eat and dress for our evening at the Myrtle Bank Hotel."

"Seven wonderful days are now a memory," but we do recommend it for the tired and weary!" Mrs. Earwood concluded.

$750,000 Federal Grant For S.F.F.C.D.

Good news this year may, ironically, cause bad news next year in the financing of construction for the 18-county Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District.

Ed Dail, Executive Director, told the Governing Board of the FCD that a new grant of $750,000, just received from the Army Corps of Engineers, pushes the current year's appropriation of federal funds to an all-time high of $16,320,000.

"This is by far the largest sum of federal money ever expended in a single year since the beginning of this Project in 1948," Dail said.

But the extra-large appropriation for fiscal year 1963-64 (which ends June 30) reduces the amount of money which the Congress can appropriate for the coming fiscal year.

As of July 1, 1964, a total of $14.7 million remained in authorized federal funds.

This means that the Congress cannot appropriate more than $14.7 million for construction this coming fiscal year — unless the Congress passes a new authorization bill, making more money available for appropriations.

The FCD needs $15.5 million in the coming year to keep construction programs on schedule.

It is most unlikely that Congress will pass a new Omnibus bill, authorizing more funds, this year, Dall added. His observations were based on conferences ten days ago with members of Florida's Congressional delegation.

Congress appropriated $15,750,000 to the Flood Control Project in late 1963, for the current fiscal year. But the Army Corps of Engineers made available an additional $820,000 in April (from other U. S. projects that are not using up their money). Then came the June grant of $750,000, pushing the total appropriation well over the $16 million mark.

The House Appropriations Committee in Washington voted for an appropriation of $13.5 million for fiscal year 1964-65. (This is the amount recommended last January by President Johnson).

It is possible that the Senate Appropriations Committee may vote for a larger appropriation. If so, it is then possible for a joint Senate-House Conference Committee to vote a larger sum than the House Committee has recommended. (This happened in 1963).

Riley S. Miles of Kissimmee, FCD Board Chairman, and Jack Horner of Palm Beach, Vice Chairman, both indicated that they will have to work hard with the help of Florida's Senators, and other members of Florida's Congressional Delegation, to get the appropriation increased for next year — if not to $15.5 million hopefully to the $14.7 million maximum which is available.

Dail said: "A reduced federal appropriation in the coming fiscal year will mean a slow-down in construction and a delay in starting work on new flood control and water conservation works."

Churches of Christ Scientist

"I shall not die, but live, and declare the works of the Lord" this verse from Psalms is part of the Golden Text that will introduce the Bible Lesson to be heard at Christian Science churches this Sunday. The subject is "Life" and begins a series on names which belong to God.

Readings will include the following lines from the Christian Science textbook: "Because Life is God, Life must be eternal self-existent. Life is the everlasting I AM, the Being who was and is and shall be, whom nothing can erase" (Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, by Mary Baker Eddy, pp. 289, 290).

Unhappy he who does his work adjourn, and to to-morrow would the search delay; his lazy morrow will be like to-day.

No "Lolly-Gagging" Says Smathers

In the coming weeks ahead, the ideal Senator should be two or three persons at least. One morning recently, three of the Senate Committees on which I serve held important meetings almost simultaneously. Consequently, I ran from hearing room to hearing room, planning my time so that I caught the key parts of testimony by the various Government and outside witnesses.

In one Committee room, Treasury Secretary Douglas Dillon was before the Senate Finance Committee, on which I am the third-ranking member, requesting committee approval of a raise in the Federal debt ceiling.

At the same time, downstairs in the Select Committee on Small Business, of which I am a subcommittee chairman, the Governor of New Jersey, Mr. Hughes, was answering questions on the impact of defense spending on the nation's economy, and over in the U. S. Capitol Building, Secretary of Defense McNamara was appearing before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee in Executive Session on the Foreign Aid program, recently passed by the House of Representatives. It is at times such as these that I wish some of the more vocal critics of the Congress and its membership could be tagging along to see just how we do spend our hours. There's no time for "lolly-gagging," believe me!

a reclining easy chair which ignited into flames after fire smouldered in its recesses for several hours.

Miner had been in poor health for several years and a family spokesman reported he often slept in the reclining chair because of a breathing problem.

His wife, Josephine, awakened by Miner's screams, pulled him from the chair and smothered the flames. He was rushed to Clewiston hospital, but lived only a few hours.

Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at Everglades Presbyterian Church, Clewiston and burial was in Clewiston Cemetery.

He is survived by his wife, three sons, a daughter, one brother and a sister.

His one main ambition, resurfacing and four-laning U. S. Highway 27 through Hendry County is currently being realized and a move is under way to name the road "Miner Highway," according to reports.

before the State's Recreation Commission for acceptance, provides 160 acres or more for the City of Belle Glade's use as a golf course. The land is owned by C&SF FCD, so that the big hurdle is over.

Disposition of the present course by the City should provide a major portion of the money needed for the new course and a clubhouse.

The City Commission decided that $15,000 spent on modernizing the present clubhouse will provide a most acceptable utility for golfers and citizens of the community until realization of the proposed new course.

Of the approximately $15,000 being spent on the course, $10,000 was received for the strip taken for dike widening.

The converted and refurnished clubhouse includes panelling through out, lowering of ceilings, provision for a fully furnished stainless steel kitchen 13 x 16 and a dining room 13 x 43 to seat approximately 75.

A convenient pro shop, redecorated ladies dressing rooms and a commodious lounge, are included. The main assembly room 30 x 40 will have a lowered ceiling, concealed or indirect lighting, and white enamelled sidewalls.

The entire building will be served by central air-conditioning and heat.

Temporary greens are being installed for use while the present greens are reworked and enlarged.

Three remaining Golf Commissioners are Bob Davis, Jack Gorham, and Jerry Gold.

Bruce Williams Wins Trip To World's Fair

Bruce Williams, car salesman at Glades Chevrolet Company, in Belle Glade, was one of the winners of a trip to the World's Fair in New York and two days in Nassau. The contest, sponsored by Chevrolet Motors, covering the entire United States is open for five weeks, with 5600 salesmen winning these trips.

Mr. Williams was the winner from the Florida-Georgia District in which 33 salesmen competed, with top prize going to the man who sold the most cars. John is thinking about "what he wants to be." No, he doesn't want to be a jet pilot, nor a nuclear physicist, nor a lawyer, nor an actor, nor a doctor, nor yet a banker, baker, or chemist. John has decided. He wants to be a MINISTER.

I wondered if his father or his uncle or anyone else in the family is a minister? Strangely enough, no! He won't make a lot of money, and knowing John, he certainly won't particularly like the idea of getting up to "preach" to people. Definitely he won't have a big shiny car to make his calls. I wondered why John had decided to devote a lifetime to service in the Church.

I asked John for a frank answer and he told me many small accumulative experiences which boiled down to this: A strong Christian influence from family, friends, and church kindled a spirit of awareness and devotion which seems to be latent in every human heart. Of course, we can't all be like John. Few of us have received the stimulus to devote our entire life to the Church. But some of John's spirit does dwell in all of us. Too often we are unaware that we possess this miraculous gift from God. Rekindle your spirit by going to church this Sunday.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL... ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Members and guests of the Florida Fruit and Vegetable Association attending the 21st annual convention of the association opening in Miami Beach, September 21, will "tee-off" with a golf tournament, J. H. (Jimmy) Wilson, Belle Glade, chairman of the tournament committee has announced.

The tournament will be sponsored by the Fruit and Vegetable Division of the Wirebound Box Industry, which will provide an elaborate array of beautful trophies and prizes, Wilson said.

The tournament will be held at the Country Club of Miami as the opening event of the 5-day meeting.

The tournament will be open to all men registered for the convention, including the "poke and hope" golfer as well as the par-or-better man. Tournament rules will allow both types of contestants to win. The Gallaway Handicap System will be used.

A similar tourney for the ladies attending the convention is also being sponsored by the same organization. This event will be held on Wednesday, September 23. This will be the first time the ladies attending FFVA's convention will have a golf tournament, according to Mrs. Sydney O. Chase, Jr., Sanford, chairman, ladies' convention activities.

Persons who wish to enter the men's or ladies' tournament will be able to do so when they register for the convention.

Burch And Lanier Representatives At Boys State

Newly elected senators and representatives of the 1964 American Legion Boys State legislature were announced today at Florida State University.

The annual practice government sessions are now underway on the campus, and will move to the State Capitol Friday (7-10) morning for inauguration of a new Boys State governor, supreme court and cabinet officials, to be elected in a mock two-party ballot last Thursday evening.

Elected as representatives from their district were "citizens" Dan Lanier and Roy Burch of Belle Glade.

Special State Taxes Collected For 63-64 Up 20.7%
67 Fla. Counties Get $234,000 Race Money Each

State Comptroller Ray E. Green reported today new and expanded taxes as passed by the 1963 Legislature produced $471,131,173 for the general revenue fund during fiscal 1963-64.

The comptroller said it was $1,026,173 more than the estimate for the period, and 20.7 per cent over the previous fiscal period.

Sales and use tax, the largest general revenue producer, brought in $230,091,735, or over $1,000,000 more than the estimate. Fourteen other revenue producing taxes also topped the estimate.

"There is no question but what the economic condition of Florida is stable and showing strength," the comptroller said. "The gains reflected were given support by the Legislative action but at the same time it was anticipated they also were to some extent contingent on the continued growth of the state."

Green said the overall production of revenue by the Beverage Department equals the estimate of its tax collection activities. He explained that while the beverage tax produced $65,017,304, or $2, 092,304 more than the estimate, the cigarette tax dropped slightly more than $2,000,000 under the estimate of $16,630,000.

The increase in the motor vehicle licenses produced a total of $63,788,496 for fiscal 1963-64, or $388,496 over the estimate. The increase produced 63.2 per cent more income than the state received from this source in 1962-63.

The comptroller said evidence of a strong tourist business during the last fiscal year was reflected in the record-breaking $14,405,967 the state received from the race track tax funds. Each of the 67 counties received $234,000 during this period.

The 1963 legislature increased the documentary stamp tax 50 per cent. Collections topped the estimate of $21,000,000 of nearly $1,000 Green reported. He said June collections were the highest in the history of the documentary stamp, producing 10 per cent of the estimate.

Green said the loss of nearly $11,000,000 in utilities taxes, which were earmarked by the Legislature for the $125,000,000 university bond issue, was offset by a windfall in estate taxes. He said estate and inheritance taxes produced $15,398,515 as compared with the estimate of $5,500,000.

Other general revenue funds which increased on the estimates were:

Drivers licenses and fees $5,696,599, up $796,599; auto title and lien $2,252,665, up $322,665; insurance licenses $767,438, up $17,438; retail store licenses $707,533, up $157,533; Hotel Commission fees $880,362, up $30,362; other sources $7,111,637; up $2,311,637; and service charges $7,131,939, up $1,191,939.

The comptroller said the Intangible tax produced only $3,000,000, or $3,200,000 under the estimate for the General Revenue fund, because of the half-mill reduction in the tax by the 1963 legislature.

The comptroller said while the state collected more than $471,131,173, disbursements only totaled $456,718,873.

"This would indicate a $36,704,563 cash balance," Green said, "but actually this is only an auditing figure. It must be remembered there are outstanding obligations which must be paid and a final certification will not be made until December, 1965 I can assure you the cash balance will be considerably less at the end of the biennium."

In looking ahead for 1964-65, Green said on the basis of estimates by members of his staff, the general revenue fund is expected to receive $488,700,000 or 3.6 per cent over 1963-64. He said general revenue income for the 1963-65 biennium is expected to be $959,831,000.

"There is no reason to believe that the growth of Florida will not continue on the same steady stable basis it has during the last several years, Green said. "The nation's economy is now in its 41st month of a steady climb. There are many possible negatives which could develop in the immediate future, but there is some question as to whether they would be of sufficient force to bring the gains to a complete halt."

A BETTER WORLD

Why do people go abroad? There are of course, quite a list of reasons. Some go on business. Some go just to see the sights. Some go to visit places where their forebearers were born. Some go ot study at the universities of the Old World.

But whatever the reason in any individual case, one thing is sure — every traveler learns something. He meets people of other lands and heritages and is given an insight into their hopes, interests and problems. This is the way that misunderstandings are dissolved — and that hands-across-the-sea friendships are made.

And this is the true significance of the age of the jet plane, which can encompass continents in a matter of hours and offer the utmost in flying comfort while it is doing so. It is, of course, an agent of commerce. But, more, it is a means of establishing and cementing understanding between peoples of far-apart lands.

That significance has been multiplied by our own principal overseas airline, Pan American. Its constant policy, going back into a comparatively primitive time of commercial air transportation, has been to reduce fares whenever possible. Its purpose is to make world air travel the province of the many, not just the few. And the result is seen in the statistics, as tourism by air increases sharply year after year. This weary old world becomes the better because of that.

NO CAUSE FOR CONCERN

A reader of McCall's magazine wrote a letter to the editor asking this question: "Why do public utilities advertise? It seems pointless, since they enjoy monopolies. It bothers me to think that part of my utility dollar is being used to encourage me to spend even more."

The magazine carried an admirable answer by Beth Williams. She pointed out that advertising, generally, is used to stimulate the sale of more electric appliances and the use of more power—and that the more power a company sells, the lower the cost becomes. Increased use is a major reason why the per kilowatt cost of electricity declined from 17 cents in 1900 to 2 cents in a recent year.

Miss Williams concluded: "So, you see, the reason electric power companies advertise is to sell more current. This investment in advertising does not raise the cost per kilowatt-hour to you. It lowers it. That's why the use of part of your utility dollar for advertising is no cause for concern. In the end, you benefit."

In just about every line of industry, increased sales mean lower production costs. And that is as true of electric power as it is of groceries.

GRASSROOTS OPINION

YORK, NEBR., NEWS-TIMES "The continuing cry for an all out war to wipe out poverty is beginning to sound more and more like a political campaign slogan . . . The arbitary poverty line has been drawn at $3,000 for a family of four or more. There are no doubt countless thousands doing very well on $3,000 or less, but it is obvious that the federal government is determined that these people must be informed of their 'poverty' After all, if the federal government did not wage this educational campaign to tell people how poor they are, they might go for years, earning their own way, improving their own lot in life under our free system. But now that they know miserable they are, they can just sit back and wait for the federal government to take care of all their wordly needs."

CORSICA, S. D., GLOBE: ' "Once upon a time there was an ant who worked hard all day in the fields. It was summer and the ant was busy cutting grass and dragging it home. The ant had a grasshopper as a neighbor. The grasshopper lived on welfare and sat in his doorway singing all day. When winter came, the ant had a whole bale of grass. But the ant had violated the Federal Farm Law for overharvesting grass. He was fined $162.50 and the surplus was seized. The grasshopper received the surplus in exchange for his food stamps.' "

UNCLE DAN from DOOLIE says:

Dear Mister Editor:

I see by the papers where the feller that runs the Clayton County Journal in Georgia has got indicted fer bootlegging. I ain't meaning to throw no rocks at the newspaper perfession and it could be he got in such a state of poverty he had to git in the bootlegging business to keep his newspaper going. Actual, if they find him guilty, the Judge had ought to make his advertisers serve his sentence. A heap of merchants don't believe in advertising and maybe he had more'n his share of them kind.

I recollect when I was a boy hearing my Grandpa tell about some famous newspaper feller named Henry Grady fixing up one of them kind of merchants real good. When editor Grady called on this merchant fer a ad one week the merchant run him off, claimed nobody read ads in the paper. Editor Grady went back to his office and fixed this feller up a want ad. "Wanted, live cats, will pay good price fer live cats brung to my store." Then he signed the mercant's name to the ad.

Fer two days and nights folks was standing in line at this feller's store with live cats. Folks from all over the country, even the younguns was bringing cats They was tom cats, pussy cats, black cats, white cats, pole cats, red cats. Final, the merchant phoned editor Grady and told him he was going to sue him, and to take that dad-berned cat ad out of the paper. Farthermore, he told him to come by his store immediate and he would give him a page ad on his merchandise.

As a general rule, newspaper folks seems to be pritty good folks and I'm sorry this feller in Georgia had such pore advertisers. But if I had been this editor I would have writ President Johnson and got on the poverty circuit instead of gitting into the bootlegging business. But some folks is proud that way, Mister Editor, just ain't going to take no charity, even from Washington where charity was invented.

Speaking of the newspaper perfession, if I keep writing this little piece fer your paper I had ought to git took into the perfession and be eligible fer all the benefits thereof, as they say in official language. But I have a few handicaps in this business. I use little words on account of I can't spell the big ones, and I don't know but two punctuation marks, the comma and the period. As a general rule, I was chewing a little tobacco when I was writing this piece, and when I pause to spit, I just put in a comma or a period and start again. If you have any trouble with punctuation, Mister Editor, just git you a wad of tobacco and try out my system.

Yours truly,
Uncle Dan

Sea Cow May Eat Its Way To Farmer's Aid

Four-footed land cows eat grass, we know; the adequate "cow" of the Sea — the Manatee — is a vegetarian. This Mammal grows up to 12 feet in length, weights of more than a ton, and therefore consumes tons and tons of water growth.

The Central & South Florida Control District spends more than $100 per mile annually on it's present 1300 miles of canals to keep them partially free of the water growth which clogs the canals. Anticipating more than 3,000 miles of canals, when completed, the district faces a continuing annual major expense, of more than $3,000,000.

Facing this growing expense, Ed Dail, General Manager and Jack Horner Vice Chairman of the Board of C & SF, began seesking information as to the authenticity of a report in Time magazine about the use of the Cow in British Guiana Canals.

Through Washington, Jack Horner met with Dr. Joseph Moore of the Chicago Natural History Museum, and was advised by him that a three-year study should be made by the District, under strict scientific supervision.

It came naturally to plan to use Manatees in a defined area and under supervision, in the District's canals, and Florida Atlantic University at Boca was engaged to conduct the experiments.

With a contract for $500 each, Capt. William Gray of the Miami Seaquarium used the Sea quarium ship, especially equipped, to come up with five Manatees.

These have been delivered to one of the canals, which has has been properly fenced off, and the group includes four females and one male. One female has a girth of 9' 4", length of 11' 4" and weighs 2,170 pounds. Others are down to 7' 2" and 337 pounds — one other 8' 9" in length and a girth of 8' 5" and a weight of 1,312 pounds. The male is 7' 9" long with a girth of 7' 4" and weighs 871 pounds.

In addition to the hopes of substantial economical use of the Cow, it is believed the preservation of the Manatee will be more certain.

Dr. Peter Sugros, assistant professor at Atlantic U is in charge of the experiment and be will be joined by State Board of Conservation Lt. William Saunderson in their "watching the eating" of the Cows.

The animal is protected by law through stiff fine and jail sentence.

TO THE EDITOR
Dear Sirs:

It is very humorous indeed that Barry Goldwater's backers are taking sizeable pains to point out that they can live with most any kind of platform the committee works out, no matter what it has to say concerning civil rights, Viet-Nam, the United Nations, peace, etc., etc.

1964 Republican convention strategy seems simple enough: William Scranton gets the platform . . . Barry Goldwater gets the nomination.

Dear Sir:

This letter was written in connection with the headlines of last week's Herald. Now I ask you, "Why do Glades youngsters have inadequate supervision, too much money, and too much free time?" Could it be because the youngsters have so many places to go and so many places to spend money that they are confused as to do what first.

No, I think not. Belle Glade has one bowling establishment and one theatre. Now the theatre is closed.

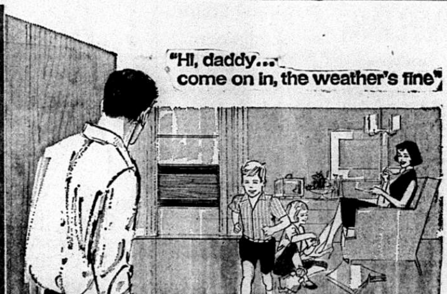

Could you tell us what we are supposed to do? I have no suggestions with facilities being what they are at present.

If new outlets for time and money were found, possibly more teenagers would stay out of trouble.

Thank you very much.
Sincerely,
Hub Spooner, Jr.

They are shown at the campsite at the recreation grounds west of Slim's Fish Camp. "Summer has set in with its usual severity."

This is an observation traced back to Samuel Coleridge. We fancy we hear a few plaintive replies, this summer, "Can Fall be far behind?"

If you are one of that forlorn chorus, may we suggest WHY NOT READ?

FLOOD. Warren.

Robert Penn Warren elected to leave the English Department at Louisiana State University in the early forties for Minnesota and later, Yale. Then Editor of the SOUTHERN REVIEW, a literary periodical of national prominence, his loss was a calamity from which the department never quite recovered.

That part of him is still with the South is demonstrated by most of his novels. Although critics agree this one falls short of the line set by others he has written, (All the King's Men, for example) it has only to be compared to current trivia pouring from the presses to find high rating. Warren's earlier books are his most vigorous competition.

It centers about a small town soon to be submerged with the completion of a dam. Beginnings, and endings, are woven together with the master's touch, making a comprehensive story out of limited people. A contrived story ,but comprehensive.

PARIS IN THE TERROR.
Loomis.

A professional historian, a rare breed, is needed to properly evaluate this book. Anyone who has ever tussled with Carlyle, however, will appreciate its simplicity.

The French Revolution was not a simple thing, but this author's approach to writing about it does put the awful panarama into sharper focus for us. We meet some of its leading figures, and through them experience the Revolution.

Marat, Charlotte Corday, Danton, Mme. Roland, Robespierre, Camille Desmoulins, and Fouche — names which invoke nightmares of tumbrel and guillotine, are tacked to their characters, and gain substance. For the amateur historian, or the person whose acquaintance with 18th century France has never progressed beyond the historical novel, this is a clear, concise account of a period which fell far short of clarity. Professionals are reported to think well of it, too.

THE WAPSHOT SCANDAL.

John Cheever.

A postscript to the WAPSHOT CHRONICAL, which won the National Book Award, this detached view of the members of a New England family, all in hot water up to their necks, takes place between one snowy Christmas, and another. The major scandal, which involves Honora with the tax collectors, is lost in the collection of misfortunes, all presented with traces of good-natured humor.

If the plot does not seem to warrant the five month stay on the best sellers list which this book has enjoyed, the secret surely lies in its language. Mr. Cheevers has an ingenius way with words. They read aloud well, if you care to try.

Lions came in second with 6 wins, 5 losses; South Bay Growers placed third, with 5 wins, 5 losses; Okeelanta Sugar Mill, fourth with 5 wins, six losses.

However, the youngsters are having so much fun they talked the Coaches, Pat Bowen, Duane Stokes, Riley Foster, Jr. and Domingo Verona, into an All Star game July 7, with Power Gas and the Sugar Mill competing with Lions and Growers. Growers and Lions won 20 to 4.

Now, a play for fun game is scheduled for Friday night. "Who knows, we may be playing baseball all summer . . and what better way is there to keep a large group of youngsters busy than playing and watching baseball games' a parent commented.

One of the highlights of the baseball season was the Annual Hamburger Cookout, where between 50 and 60 boys and their coaches enjoyed barbecued ham burgers and cold drinks. This event is sponsored by the Little League and prepared by friends of some of the players.
